Corrosion Inhibitors Vapor Capsules

Volatile corrosion inhibiting (VCI) products contain proprietary chemical systems which emit an invisible, orderless, nontoxic vapor which is diffused throughout an enclosure. The resulting VCI rich atmosphere causes VCI molecules to condense on all interior surfaces that they can reach. Metal surfaces inside the enclosure are passivated by the condensed VCI molecules.

Vapor Capsules are the oldest member of the VCI family of products. By placing these self contained capsules inside an enclosure, the vapors permeate to every available surface. The condensed VCI molecules passivate iron, steel copper, brass, and aluminum.

The proprietary VCI formulation in combination with ruggedly designed packaging (US Patent No 3,836,077) makes the Vapor Capsules a remarkably practical solution to many corrosion problems.

Parts#	Description	Protection Life
98-37501	VCI Vapor Capsules VC1-1 (50 per Case)	1 year
98-37502	VCI Vapor Capsules VC2-1 (25 per Case)	1 year
98-37503	VCI Vapor Capsules VC2-2 (25 per Case)	2 year
98-37504	VCI Vapor Capsules VC6-1 (4 per Case)	1 year
98-37505	VCI Vapor Capsules VC6-2 (4 per Case)	2 year

Formula for determining size and quantity of capsules

(Volume = Length X Width X Height)

Item	Formula	Volume of Protection	Radius of Protection
VC1	Volume + 4.2	4.2 cubic feet	1ft
VC2	Volume + 22.5	33.5 cubic feet	2ft
VC6	Volume + 905	905 cubic feet	6ft
